

HOMO-PARENTHOOD AND THE CLAIMS OF NON-NORMATIVE FAMILIES IN BRAZIL

WEDNESDAY 2/21/18 2:00-3:00 LAB 6

This presentation will examine how homo-parenthood and childhood trans-sexuality is interpreted by the Brazilian legal system. This presentation will focus on the expected heterosexuality from those proposing legal adoptions as well as how children/teenagers are also expected to be heterosexuals in the process of legal adoption. This talk will address the LGBTTIQA+ resistance in Brazil to this process.

Lindomar Darós received his Ph.D. degree at State University of Rio de Janeiro in Public Policies and Human Development. His research broaches questions of homo-parenthood, legal adoption by homosexuals, and childhood trans-sexuality. He is one of the ABEH (Brazilian Association of Homocultural Studies) founders and he is currently taking his post-doctoral program at State University of Rio de Janeiro.
